Any one can do the work and live at home. Either sex; all ages. Something new, that just coins money for all workers. We will start you; capital not needed. This is one of the genuine, important, chances of a lifetime. Those who are ambitious and enterprising will not delay. Grand outfit free. Address True & Co., Augusta, Maine. 1685

ALL SORTS.

—Hon. R. S. Clapp was in the city yesterday.
—The State Board of Agriculture meets tomorrow.
—The Reno Journal has entered upon its 27th volume.
—Alapaca coats and vests at Blumenthal & Cohn's.
—F. G. Folsom, has purchased the wood business from H. C. Dunn.
—Major Willis Clark has been appointed Notary Public for Carson.
—W. B. Parsons the Virginia news agent was in the city yesterday.
—Mrs. J. E. Jones, wife of the Surveyor General, arrived in Carson yesterday.
—The funeral of Louis M. Tremblay took place yesterday and was very largely attended.
—FOR SALE—Pure strain of Langshan and Brown Leghorn eggs. Apply at Geo. McLoughlin's residence.
—FOR SALE—A fine, large residence in the Western part of the city. Terms reasonable. Apply at this office.
—The dining room of the Ormsby House is now open in connection with the restaurant, with Thompson at the helm.
—C. F. Holmes the agent of the Home Benefit Insurance Co., is again in the city. He reports a large business everywhere.
—The chances are that a new President and a corps of new teachers will be engaged at the re-opening at the State University.
—Somebody has introduced to males into Philadelphia, and the local press speaks of the novelty as "a croquette tied in a corn-husk."
—FOUND—A portion of a gold K. of L. emblem. The owner can recover property by calling at this office and paying for this advertisement.
—FOUND—A pair of opera-glasses, within one block of the Capitol. The owner can have the same by proving property and paying for this advertisement.
—The collecting of silver spoons of different cities of Europe is the latest craze among traveling American ladies.—Exchange.
Two men are in jail here now for encouraging this same mania.
—The Virginia Report thinks that after April 4th, newspaper men traveling on the inter-State railroads will have to come under the head of live stock tenders, and poke the steers up or else walk.
—It is wise to provide against emergencies that are liable to arise in every family. A cold may be a dangerous thing, or not, depending upon the means at hand to combat it. In sudden attacks of cold, croup, asthma, etc., Ayer's Cherry Pectoral will prove the quickest and most effective cure, and your best friend.
—President Fitzgerald of the Irish National League says: "We have given up attempting to fight England with old guns, revolvers and knives. We will fight her now with dynamite, poison, knives, fire—every weapon the ingenuity of man can devise—if, of course, the Coercion bill be passed."
Such talk as that will do the Irish cause no good. Gladstone is the grandest champion Ireland now has, and you never hear him talk that way.
A Fine Picture.
The splendid crayon portrait of Miss Taddie Doane, which has been on exhibition in Cagwin & Noteware's window, is from the pencil of Monaco, the artist, and is a very fine piece of work. The face is a study, and the arrangement of the drapery particularly effective. It was presented her yesterday by her father, the occasion being her eighteenth birthday.
Wants it Tested.
Editor Fairbanks, of the Lyon County Times, was in the city the other day, looking for points on the inter-State Commerce law. He thinks the clause cancelling his pass on the C. & C. road to be highly unconstitutional, and thinks the press ought to make a test case and carry the matter to the Supreme Court of the United States.
Please Report.
Persons who do not get the APPEAL regularly will please report at this office. A new carrier is on the route, and is not thoroughly broken in.

ARBOR DAY.

The City Trustees Call a Public Meeting.

Last evening the City Trustees held a meeting in the office of D. A. Bender, to take steps relative to a proper celebration of Arbor Day in Carson City.
They deemed that they were the persons to make the first move, as the day was a sort of school children's holiday and the trees donated by Mr. Sutro were in the main, to be planted by them. It was finally decided to call a public meeting for Saturday evening (tomorrow) at the Court House, where it is proposed to have a general exchange of views. All citizens are invited to be present.

Sickening Slush.

The nauseating swash and drool that comes over the wires daily about the debut of Mrs. Potter Brown is enough to make intelligent readers wish that the Atlantic Cable had never been laid. The type-setting alone in these dispatches probably costs in the United States in the neighborhood of $50,000 a day. The whole thing summed down shows a brassy society woman with some stage tricks making her debut on an English stage and asking the telegraph companies and newspapers to grovel at her feet every day for a month that she may be gratuitously advertised. From the general tone of the London papers it is easy to see that despite the backing of the Prince of Wales she is the flattest failure of all the year.

Sutro's Plans.

Adolph Sutro states that his offer to give his franchise for a railroad and all the work done upon it, amounting to about $50,000, to Sutter Street Railroad Company, upon condition that only one fare of five cents from the ferry to the ocean beach should be charged, was made in good faith. He says that the Market street cable road is already considering the expediency of charging but a single fare, and eventually he thinks that all the companies will transport passengers from bay to ocean for five cents. Mr. Sutro says that his plans for the donation of his grounds and library to the city, under the act of the last Legislature, have not been perfected. The required papers are being drawn up.—San Francisco Post.

Blood Will Tell.

G. Chism has a grade Holstein bull calf, sired by Gulling's Nevada Prince, out of a grade Ayrshire cow, which he weighed recently and the beam was tipped at 800 pounds. This calf has now been in service for two months and over. He is a living illustration of the superiority of blood stock over the scrub. This calf sold at six months old for $45, whereas a scrub calf at the same age goes begging at eight dollars.—Reno Journal.

Notice.

The W. C. T. U. of Nevada will hold a State Convention on Monday April 4th at the Methodist Episcopal Church, Carson City, Nevada. Exercises commence at 10 A. M. A cordial invitation is extended to all interested in the cause of temperance. By order of the Executive Committee.
H. K. CLAPP,
Secretary.

Reopened.

The Ormsby House dining room which a few weeks ago was closed to be renovated and repaired is now reopened by Mr. Kaiser and will be under the management of Mr. Thompson his old reliable steward. The restaurant and dining room will both continue to run to satisfy the demands of the largely increasing business.

Temperance Lecture.

Miss Pugh, the famous temperance lecturer, will address the children at the Presbyterian Church on Sunday at 12:15 and will also lecture at the Methodist Church on Monday evening at 7:30. She is said to be a very earnest speaker and full of zeal for the cause.

—The concentrative power and curative virtues of Ayer's Sarsaparilla render it the most reliable and economical medicine that can be used. It contains no dangerous or harmful ingredients, and may be safely administered to patients of all ages. When you are sick the best medicine that can be obtained is none too good, and is the cheapest, whatever its cost.

Beecher's Youngest Sister.

NEW YORK, March 31.—Concerning the story published yesterday to the effect that Beecher's youngest sister, Mrs. Isabella Beecher Hooker, was refused permission to look upon the face of her dying brother, an intimate friend of the family said last night: "It is true that the Beecher family objected to the presence of Mrs. Hooker during that awful period of affliction, but there is nothing in it to wonder at. Mrs. Hooker acted in the most unseemly way and said the most cruel things during the Beecher-Tilton trial. She was simply infatuated with Victoria Woodhull, and used to call her 'Victoria my queen.' This infatuation induced her to say things of Beecher which were not forgiven. Her association with that woman, of itself, separated her from the family. Now when Beecher was taken ill it was with apoplexy, and he was unconscious until he died. Mrs. Hooker could not have spoken to him nor could he have recognized her. Her presence there would simply have been an addition to the already great load of grief that Mrs. Beecher had to bear. Beecher's whole family objected to her presence in that house at such an hour. I have no doubt that Rev. Edward Beecher did go and ask her not to call, although I do not know the fact. I see no occasion for any public comment upon this proceeding. It was very wise and entirely proper."

They Want the News.

Last week E. S. Spring, the mining and stock expert of the Post, was sent up to the Comstock to personally investigate the mining situation. While passing through Carson, an APPEAL representative waylaid him and pumped him dry. This interview Mr. Spring had no knowledge of until it was in type and a proof sheet was shown him at 4:30 P. M. His first exclamation was:

"H—! Are you going to publish what I told you?"

When informed that the publication was inevitable he sat down like a little man, accepted the situation and corrected the proof. It was all correct. The APPEAL captured the news and the Post paid the expenses of getting it. If the writer was not on familiar terms with its big city contemporary it would not presume on these liberties, but did so feeling that the next time we ran against Sheenan at the Bay, a couple of glasses of Bodweiser would bridge the chasm occasioned by such an atrocious burglary.

The APPEAL was the first paper to give Mr. Spring's impressions publicly, and it gave information which even the Comstock papers had not been able to secure.

Yesterday the APPEAL received telegraphic orders from San Francisco for extra copies, but was unable to supply the demand.

The Yankee Yachts.

NEW YORK, March 29.—The log of the Dauntless, confirming as it does the first reports of squalls and hurricanes and ragings encountered by both yachts the whole way from New York to Queenstown, served only to make the Coronet's victory more signal and decisive. There probably never has been, all things considered, a more brilliant run across the Atlantic. The Henrietta's record in the great sweepstake race in 1866 of thirteen days, twenty-one hours and fifty five seconds, was made in fair yachting weather. The Coronet took less than a day longer to fight her way across against some of the most tremendous seas and gales, old seamen have met on the North Atlantic. Every yachtsman about town yesterday was astonished at the unexpected run of the Coronet and when the news came that the Dauntless had arrived but one day later with the record that broke that of any other yacht for a single day's sailing, there was increased surprise. It was the general feeling that in the Coronet and Dauntless America had two racing schooners which for speed and endurance Englishmen would have to go far to match. It is hoped the Coronet will make some races with English boats before she returns or passes out of the present owner's hands.
